“My paintings reflect my love of abstract expressionism. I have been working with a limited palette lately, in which I feel more successful. I paint in the quiet, as it allows me to focus on just the paint and canvas. In a kind of intuitive manner. My color reflects that of nature and emotional inspiration.”

THE GALLERY 510 FRAME SHOP

Choose the Right Moulding

The right frame moulding should enhance a work of fine art without overwhelming it. Several factors can influence which moulding you choose: 1) where will the piece be displayed, 2) does it need to work with other art or objects that are already in that setting, and 3) what style is the artwork. You should also consider the colors, textures and styles of other framed works and objects that are already in the room as well as the style or period of the art.

Gallery 510 staff are waiting to assist you in choosing from our wide selection of mouldings to find just the right frame moulding to complement your artwork.
