"Bob and I have been incredibly fortunate to be able to travel all around this wonderful and beautiful country since he retired a few years ago. The paintings in this collection showcase some of the highlights of our travels."

STUDENT ARTIST OF THE MONTH

The DECEMBER Student Artist of the Month is Natalie Williams, a senior from Sangamon Valley High School." This oil painting is titled "Fairwell".

Natalie's teacher, Nicole Christison, shared the following: Natalie worked with mainly colored pencils throughout most of her childhood and started painting last year. Natalie paints a lot of different subjects, but most often people. She said, "I love portraiture because I love capturing the light and shadows on people, especially skin tones." The painting being shown is about a man and his wife before leaving for war during WWII. Natalie said, "I saw photos in a video about WWII of couples having to say goodbye and I really wanted to capture how special that moment must have been for them because some of them died and never saw each other again. The hands are important because they are gripping each other tight, not wanting to let go."

Natalie's favorite medium to work with is oil paint. Her favorite artist is Jon Gregor. She has plans to attend Eastern Illinois University as an art education major and then would like to attend graduate school to become an art professor.

GALLERY SHARES SUPPLIES

The Gallery 510 Frame Shop often has materials leftover from frame orders that cannot be used by the frame shop. We want to share these supplies with art students in area schools. Schools are always in need of art supplies and since the Gallery's Frame Shop has materials they cannot use, the best thing to do is share this material with those who can use it. Two schools have already been the recipients of these supplies. Jacob Manning from Warrensburg-Latham was very willing to take anything his students could make art from. Nicole Christison's students at Sangamon Valley High School were also happy recipients.

ALISON HUCKSTEP
 Alison graduated Millikin University in 2009 with a BFA in painting & drawing. A couple years later she found a passion for healthcare and became a CNA. She says, "I have gotten back to painting in the past 2 years. I work in acrylic on canvas. I'm influenced by abstract expressionism. My current works are exploring a limited palette, creating mono-chromatic pieces. I find inspiration from the colors and organic forms in nature."

GALLERY 510 WELCOMES TWO NEW MEMBER ARTISTS ALISON HUCKSTEP & WILL DOTY

WILL DOTY
 Will was born in Decatur & graduated from Mt. Zion in 2014. He graduated from the University of Wisconsin-Madison with a BA and Masters degree. "The themes I am currently exploring in my art include the intersection between traditional and contemporary imagery, the intersection between the artificial and the natural, and history. I use a combination of media, including acrylic, oil pastel, oil, and collage, to achieve my desired result."

THE GALLERY FRAME SHOP

Here Comes the Sun

COVID has brought new trends as many work from home and seek to create new work spaces. The needs of the household have changed and everything from colors and textures have changed too. The demand is up to redesign working spaces and other living areas. What surveys have discovered is everyone wants more light, natural light and windows. "People are seeking ways to create more serenity and tranquility in their living atmosphere for mental and physical well-being," said Jared Davis, MCPF, GCF, and business manager for Frames Now Australia.

Lighter colors and finishes in framing are being chosen. Lighter tones and whitewashed woods were predicted for this year with people finding inspiration from Scandinavian and rustic style philosophies. Earthy tones have grown in popularity as the serenity of the outdoors is brought indoors. Color trends are soft, subtle and calming.

"Bringing elements of nature into your living space adds a tranquil feeling to your home," said Tom Fuller, vice president of sales and marketing at Crescent. "A simple way to incorporate this trend into your abode is through framed art. Crescent offers a wide variety of colors as well as hundreds of natural fabrics and textures that, when incorporated into your framed piece, are sure to give off calming and peaceful vibes."
